DEDICATION

Mr. Larry Cushman

Mrs. Bernice Striggle

One of the greatest rewards of working on the Golden Haze is to be able to dedicate your work to someone who has given his time and effort for you. These persons chosen by our class to receive this honor were always there to see that things were going right, whether it was at a dance, concessions, or any class project. These persons engineered what will be one of our fondest high school memories, our Senior trip.

We, the class of 1960, feel a great indebtedness to you, our friends, sponsors, and teachers; and we would like to say with deep sincerity, "thanks" — Mrs. Striggle and Mr. Cushman.

Ready to march

ALONG THE WAGON TRAIL

In 1948 47 troublemakers entered the first grade of Akron Grade School. Since our class was divided, some of the kids were sent to the second grade classroom under the instruction of Miss Bolinger and the rest of us were in Mrs. Irelan's room. Although we had to be punished many times, we liked both of our teachers very much.

In the second year, our class was still divided. Mrs. Mathiesen and Mrs. Kuhn were our teachers. It was during this year that the construction of the new grade school was completed.

In the third year our class had increased to 48. We were still divided and our teachers were Miss Bevington and Mrs. Kuhn.

We were led through the fourth year by Miss Bevington and Mrs. Kuhn. Our class had now reached the grand total of 51 which was the largest number of students in our class at any time during our entire academic career.

In our fifth year our teachers were Mrs. Kinder and Miss Rose, the grade school principal. The class had now decreased to 45 members.

Finally we came to the sixth grade. This was our last year in grade school so we made the most of it by exerting our influence over the underclassmen. After gaining and losing a few, our class had approximately 48 members. Mr. Becraft and Mr. Halliday guided us through this last year in grade school.

Then came the big year! Everything was so confusing and different in the seventh grade in comparison to grade school. No recesses, classes in different rooms, study periods, and those stupid excuse blanks. But finally we got into the swing of things and we began to take advantage of the canteen and all the interesting magazines in the school library. Miss Lozier and Mr. Halliday were our sponsors during this first year in Jr. High.

Then we went into the eighth grade. Our subjects were getting more difficult. Our sponsors were Mr. Cushman and again Miss Lozier. Out of a class of 46, Don Overmyer was selected as the most distinguished member of our class. He was presented with the citizenship Award that is given by the American Legion each year.

Those we lost during our second year in Jr. High were: Jerry Harper, Danny Willard, Charles Ameigh, Mike Freese, Kurt Shoemaker, Sharon Forsythe, Carol Stringer, and Linda and Ronnie Sams.

In 1956, we found ourselves beginning the first year of our final four years of high school. Our sponsors were Mr. Cushman and Mrs. Ginn. Our class officers were as follows: President, Jim Harsh; Vice Pres., Stanley Singpiel; Secretary and Treasurer, Fred Shewman.

In this year we gained Jim Harsh, Mike Metzger, Melba Morris, and Ann Wildermuth who didn't return the next year.

Our Sophomore year was soon upon us. The sponsors were Mr. Cushman and Donna Colbert and the class officers for that year were: President, Allen Smith; Vice President, Sandra McCloughan; Secretary and Treasurer, Patsy Hartzler. It was this year that many of us had to suffer through those horrible S.S.S. and Hi-y initiations. It was during this year that Carol Stringer returned and Patty Wentzel and Bonnie Koenig left us.

We were sponsored in our Junior year of high school by Mr. Cushman and Mrs. Striggle. Our class officers were: President, Gary Huppert; Vice President, Gray Bradway; Secretary and Treasurer, Stella Hartzler. We also selected Duane Smith as manager of the canteen. We then took over the canteen after Christmas and we did rather well thanks to Mr. Meredith's encouraging pep talks. Other money making projects were the sale of magazines which kept us busy a good many days and the Jr. Play, "DEADLY ERNEST." We gave the Jr. and Senior Reception at the Warsaw Elks Club. In this year we gained Rush Bradford, Judy Harriel, and Jim Sriver who later left that same year.

We entered 1959 as Seniors. Our sponsors were again Mr. Cushman and Mrs. Striggle. The class officers were: President, Gary Bradway; Vice President, Jim Harsh; Secretary, Stella Hartzler; Treasurer, Sharon Masteller. Our Senior play was "Maybe You're Wrong" and the director was Mr. Cushman Suzanne Swick was our annual editor and Mrs. Waechter, the sponsor. We had the canteen until Christmas and made money for our Senior Trip. The last wonderful things that occurred in our school life were the Jr. and Sr. reception, Baccalaureate and Commencement in the spring of 1960. We had a wonderful time on the Senior Trip to New York and Washington and appreciate the help of the community in making it possible.

TRAILS OF TOMORROW

While on the senior trip, Mrs. Striggle and Mr. Cushman, our class sponsors, were making their way to the top of the Empire State Building when suddenly the elevator stuck. The elevator boy, sensing the seriousness of the situation, felt it his duty to keep the passengers calm, by telling their fortune with the aid of his crystal ball which dangled on the end of his key chain, and a "do it yourself" fortune telling handbook which he always carried with him.

Mr. Cushman, being a very incredulous and doubting person, decided to test the elevator boy's ability by asking him what the senior class members would be doing in the future. Cushman gave him a list containing the names of all the class members and said, "Prove your ability to foretell the future."

The name at the head of the list was Dennis Thompson. The boy took the crystal ball from the chain and waited for it to clear. He noticed Denny working in a self-owned factory manufacturing Woman Hater Pins. He also noticed that Denny had just recently been jilted by a beautiful red head and had changed his feeling about the fairer sex.

He saw Stanley Singpiel, a door to door salesman in Sing Sing, selling Stanley's Singing Pills (try it again) guaranteed to make you sing like a Lark or your voice back.

Mrs. Striggle and Mr. Cushman couldn't make themselves believe it, but the boy said that Jim Harsh was a bouncer in a fancy night club in Las Vegas, and that Fred Shewman was taking Arthur Murray's place because Arthur had finally reached the age of sixty-five and had retired. The team of Kathryn and Fred will be a smash hit, I'm sure. (By the way, it might be interesting to know that Fred's favorite saying is, "put a little fun in your life, try dancing."

The fraud, I mean elevator boy, also said that Bob Huppert was working as a car hop at the Penquin Point at Warsaw. I guess he just fell in love with the Point's super duper Fadburger.

After looking again into the ball, the boy blushed as he saw that Winston Oliver was owner of a first rate burlesque show and that Mary Lou Good had dyed her hair and was working for Winston.

Mrs. Striggle didn't believe his last prediction and told the elevator boy that he was a fake. The boy said there was a chance that he was wrong because only ninety-eight percent of his predictions had ever come true.

The next two names on the list were Lynn Fenimore and Rush Bradford. The boy said that they were in show business, Lynn was doing the voice of Huckleberry Hound and Rush was the summer replacement for Mr. Greenjeans on the Captain Kangaroo show. (Rush always did like little children.)

The elevator boy said that the crystal ball was getting foggy but he could make out that Gary Huppert had bought a pair of elevated shoes, founded an escort service agency in New York, and was now taking lovely girls out on the town.

Mrs. Striggle was beginning to believe the boy's predictions, but Mr. Cushman still didn't think fortune telling was feasible, especially after the boy said that Judy Harriell and Judy Leininger had formed the Judy and Judy Incorporated, a company that made stockings for ladies that wouldn't run, stretch or tear. Sharon Junkin was an employee of the company, modeling the products for interested clients.

He said that Diane Drudge was the proud owner of a six ton crane and digging equipment. Her advertising slogan was "Everyone digs Drudges Dredging, because they're the best dug."

Mrs. Striggle, who was still in doubt was really astonished when the elevator boy said that Suzanne Swick was a marriage counselor in a large high school in Georgia.

Next on the list was Karen Hammond and Patsy Hartzler. He couldn't quite grasp the girls by looking into the ball, but finally, after consulting his "do-it-your-self" handbook, he said that Karen and Patsy were touring the world as professional wrestlers. Carolyn Overlander was the manager of both girls and saw to it that each match was rigged so that she knew which girl would win so that she would win her bets on the matches.

The prognostication that Mr. Cushman thought was a gasser was that Richard Funk was reading poems while Mary Ann Meredith played the saxophone and Joe Madeford played the guitar. They were performing their act in a small dive in Greenwich Village.

Mike Metzger, the elevator boy said, was a dress designer in Paris, and probably never would be very great in the eyes of his public.

Finally someone had discovered that our sponsors were in the elevator that was stuck halfway up the Empire State Building and began work to rescue them. However, the elevator boy was well satisfied because he had never before been able to keep a crowd, small or large, interested in his fortune telling for any length of time.

Next on the list was Allen and Alice Smith. They were owners of a gas station. Alice washed the car windows while Allen filled their tanks and handed out the top-value stamps.

Joe Maddux, the school's best four-square-champion, was in bigger things now because he was now the World's Four-Square-Champion. The boy said also that Janice Miller had set a world's record for sitting on a flag pole for three years, so that she could be alone.

The elevator boy complained that his crystal needed polishing because it kept getting fogged over. So, after he had blown his breath on it and wiped it clean with his hanky, he proceeded to tell about Allen Heltzel. He said that Allen had something to do with the ground. So the boy gave the ball another swipe with his hanky and saw Allen digging graves, and then he muttered something about trying to overcome his fear of ghosts. Mr. Cushman couldn't quite believe this because he could remember how well Allen told "Bloody Bones in the Coal Shed." Maybe he'd sold himself to the idea of ghosts.

Mrs. Striggle asked what had happened to Helen Arnett, Karen Martin, Joyce Smith and Stella Hartzler. The elevator boy took a closer look and saw that these lovely ladies had bought a gambling casino and established it in the lower suburbs of Disko. To hide their identity, the girls have all dyed their hair blond, added diamond studded hair pins, dressed in skin-squeezing sheaths and old ladies' oxfords with gold dust. If you look closely you could see their Mickey Mouse ears worn out of sheer loyalty to their admired hero.

The boy said that Duane Smith was in France studying, but he couldn't quite tell whether it was art or women he was studying. He could see Duane paint brush in hand, French beret, and a purple and orange bow tie, just staring at a girl dressed in four large balloons grinning from ear to ear holding a toothbrush in one hand and a large sign in the other which read: "Bubblepooooo really bubbles. The elevator boy looked closer (which every red-blooded American boy would have done) he saw that the girl was Sharon Masteller. As Mrs. Striggle gave a horrified gasp, the boy explained that Sharon had decided to let herself go!

The boy told Mr. Cushman that Harriet Bowers was the only one in politics, and her stupendous position was that of Mayor of Athens. Randy Sriver and Gary Bradway helped Harriet campaign by passing out hand bills to get a little ready cash for the long winter of leisure and were enjoying the carefree life of bums. They were touring the country teaching others with torn nerves resulting from the worry and strain of the world, how to become genuine Hoboes.

Willodean Cox was in the restaurant business, she owned her own establishment called "Willy's Truck Stop." Susan Boswell is the chief cook for Willy and her special is pizza.

The elevator boy got out his hanky and began shining the ball as he told Mrs. Striggle and Mr. Cushman that Gary Parker gave up his position as chief pretzel bender to follow archeologist, Sandy McCloughan, to the far most corners of the world, and he saw that they were having fun digging up bones and reading hieroglyphics.

The boy then explained that he had finished the list of names and that he wanted to tell Mrs. Striggle's and Mr. Cushman's fortunes, but the only words he could utter as the elevator fell steadily were: ahhhhh aaaaahhhhh ah ah ah!

WHAT WE COULDN'T TAKE WITH US

I, Suzanne Swick, being of unsound mind and body, do hereby will my horn to anyone who thinks he can play it. To Mr. Meredith I leave the memory of the person who always thought history and government was "musty."

I, Judith Kay Hairrell, being of potential mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my well bitten fingernails to Kay Metzger, my seat on the bus to Phil Gray and Lyle Butts, and my government book to any lucky Junior or unlucky Senior in hopes that they have less worries over it than I had, to all future classes of A.H.S. the best of luck.

I, Alice Smith, having very strong body and a feeble mind, will to Barb G. and Margaret M. my ability to (?) and not get caught, and to hot rod around whenever I can get my "grubby hands" on a car, to all future chorus members the ability to have a ball in chorus as I did.

I, Randy Sriver, being of weak mind and sound body, will my attitudes about girls to Wendall Kuhn, who, I am sure, doesn't need it. I will my pitching ability to Dick Saygers, my ability to get out of working hard to Don Nicodemus, and my drunk act in the class play to Lynn Smith. Also, I will my ability to sit in the drug store and talk to girls to Randy Hartman, and an empty pocketbook to "Coach Tufts," who was the cause of all my financial troubles.

I, Jon Duane Smith, do hereby will and bequeath my position as canteen manager to any Junior who can pinch pennies better than I did. Also to Alona K. I will my turkey leg in hopes that she can keep the band in order better than I. To Miss Bevington, I will my hair so she can make paint brushes to keep her art class busy.

I, Harriet Bowers, will my typing book and typewriter back to Mr. Turner.

I, Mary Lou Good, being of unsound mind and unstable balance, do will and bequeath my ability to get out of step in band to Miss Mavis, who has wholeheartedly attempted to make her marching band a success. To Miss Bevington I leave my complete prized collection of broken brushes, crumbled crayons, and palid paints.

I, Susan Boswell, being in unstable mind and feeble body, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to "toot" a flute with always a wrong "toot" to my fellow flutists; also my ability to stay "skinny" to Philip Murphy.

I, Janice Miller, being of sound mind (whatever that means), and good health as far as I know, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to talk in the assembly to Margaret Moore; my worn out school clothes to my sister, Kay; and my worn out school books, to anyone who wants them, providing they pay for them first.

I, Sharon Masteller, being slightly neurotic and of an unsound mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Margaret Moore, my ability to be quiet when I shouldn't be and then "pop up" and say something at the wrong time. Also, I will to the future Senior Class Treasurer the ability to get rich quick by handling the money matters for the class.

I, Melinda Diane Drudge, being of sound (?) mind and poor body, do hereby will my band position to any oncoming Senior, my long fingernails, and my naturally curly hair to any girl who is willing to put the time in on them.

I, Willodean Cox, will my bookkeeping book to any lucky Junior.

I, Jim Harsh, being of a weak mind and weak body, will my empty billfold to anyone who has money and no billfold, my cornet to anyone who can play it better than I (such as Kay Colbert), shortstop on the baseball team to Danny Henderson, and my chemistry book to anyone who can make better grades than I.

I, Bob Huppert, will all my accumulated knowledge to anyone whose mental needs are infinitesimal.

I, Gary "Gup" Huppert, being of weak mind and superb body, will and bequeath my ability for using my assembly periods, for studying and being very quiet under the utmost supervision of "track coach" and "Frankie," to Jim "Blunderin" Barr, I will my chair in the most alert section in band, to Nancy Kay Terrell I will my driving ability for driving back and forth to school. I will my job in Arter's Drug Store, to Bob Sausaman, and my class sponsors to any class who needs a couple of "goodies."

I, Lynn "Fin" Fenimore being of slow mind and quick muscle, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to heckle Mrs. Striggle to anyone who thinks they can get by with it.

I, Karen Hammond, being of strong jaws and weak ankles, will and bequeath my dimples to Randy Hartman so that he can add them to his collection. To Carolyn Heltzel, I will a suit of underwear so that she won't have to use a hot water bottle and blankets to keep warm while riding in my Chevy to piano lessons this winter.

I, Denny Thompson, being of confused mind and small body, do hereby will my ability to stay in Berniece's Junior English Class to Ronnie Hoffman, and my ability to be basketball manager to any able-bodied character that wants it. I will my aptitude to drink cokes with the girls at Mishler's to any boy.

I, Sandra McCloughan, being unsure of the state of my mind, will my place as the only girl in solid geometry class to Juanita Burkett in hopes that she will get as big a charge out of it as I did??????, to Nancy Terrell my ability to have a flat tire at 1:00 a.m. knowing she will enjoy it as much as I did.

I, Allen Heltzel, hereby will my motorcycle to Granville in hopes that he may, with it, keep "Curly" under control, also, I will my position in chemistry class to "Chemist Curly."

I, Joe Maddux, being of unsound mind and uncontrollable actions, will and bequeath my ability to ride to school in all kinds of weather to Tom Swick.

I, Gary Parker, being of questionable sanity, do hereby will my ability to be off-time and still stay in chorus, to Randy Hartman. To Kenny Miller, I will my ability to have a ball in study hall and not get kicked out; also, to "Snorky" Smith my ability to be a rotten baseball player, but still get to play.

I, Karen Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my typing eraser, what is left, to my sister Sue, in hopes she won't have to use it as much as I did. Also, to "Mag" Moore and "Barb" Gray all the green apples they can eat.

I, Carolyn Overlander, being of sound mind and strong body (?) will to any lucky Junior girl my ability to be engaged in my Senior year to a swell guy. I also leave to any Junior my government book in hopes they will get more out of it than I did.

I, Stanley Singpiel, being of empty mind and emptier pocketbook, hereby will my slide ruler for $2.00 to any physics student, hoping he or she will get more use out of it than I did; also, I will my 7th grade tennis shoes to Mr. Tufts so he might be a little quieter while walking in the assembly.

I, Patsy Hartzler, suffering from malnutrition and scholastic rheumatism, hereby will and bequeath, to my fellow sax players my ability to play marches in ¾ time. To Kerry Flohr I will my title of "Miss Disko," in hopes it will make a little lady out of him.

I, Judy Leininger, being of sound mind and weak body, will and bequeath my government book to anyone who may like it and to Norma Hiers I will my typing book and hope that she may do better than I did. I also will to Martha Oliver my place in band and hope that she stays out of as much trouble as I did.

I, Stella Hartzler, not so sure at this moment about my state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath my "fabulous" collection of Rick Nelson pictures to my sister Peg, also, my ability to get along with everyone to anyone, and my job as secretary of the class to anyone who enjoys writing.

I, Helen Faye Arnett, being of undecided mind and good physical body, will to my brother Donnie my ambition to graduate, my car to anyone who enjoys paying for it while going to school. I will my position as play prompter to whoever enjoys having fun, my courage to take shorthand to Georgia Barnes, and last but not least my waitress position to whomever likes to wait on crabby people.

I, Rush Bradford, being a guy that tends to his own business do hereby will my ability to drive my brothers "T" Bird and speed occasionally, to any unlucky guy.

I, Gary Bradway, do hereby will and bequeath my chair in band to David Parker, in hopes that he can hit more sour notes than I; also the position of class president to any Junior who is lucky, or stupid enough to get the job. I will to Lynn Smith my ability, guard position, and inability to hit foul shots while playing on the B team.

I, Sharon Junkin, being of sound mind, will my position as Mr. Turner's Secretary to anyone who wishes to gain knowledge and experience, and enjoy it as much as I have. To Mrs. Shireman, I will a fly swatter, in case she is interrupted by flies while talking again.

I, Allen Smith, will my good 50 "Merc" motor to Mike Stephen for his good 38 "Chevy," and my ability not to get caught in watermelon patches. I also will Mike Stephen my ability to chew snuff and not get sick. To "Tweed" I will my ability to get along with girls. I will my driving ability to Barb, even though Margaret Moore needs it.

I, Mary Ann Meredith, being of an unstable mind, will my ability to say the wrong things at the wrong time, and in the wrong place to anyone who can make better use of it. Also I will my first chair in band to Claudia Klise, hoping she can do more than sit and blare out the wrong notes like I did.

I, Winston Oliver, "Alias Winnie," having doubts as to how stable minded I am, will to Martha, my Ricky Nelson records, because I've grown too old for him. To Philip "Pinky" Grey, I will my "Get Rich Quick" pin which was to get me rich, but didn't, and to Mr. Deaton, my police whistle, hoping that he can use it to stop trouble before it starts.

I, Frederick Charles Shewman, being of rattled brain, do hereby will my position as Chairman of the Gripe Committee of the Akron Explorer Scouts to Jim "Blundering" Barr, and my seat in JET's typing class to anyone who is fortunate enough to be more co-ordinated than I was. Also, for future high school students, I would like to will my place as drummer in the A.H.S. band to Arnold Sheets, in hopes he will do better than I did, and the remains of my motorbike to my brother, Andy.

I, Mike Metzger, being out of my mind, will go.

I, Joyce Smith, not sure of the condition of my mind, will my school books to Miss Bevington, so that she can take my place as she has promised to do for a long time.

I, Richard Funk, will my ability to play ping-pong to Tom Swick, who really needs it.

GOLDEN HAZE STAFF

Just as a shell is tossed to and fro, polished by many hands until it bears the hallmark of every member of the staff. Even as the deadline arrived, our heads were swimming with plans and ideas, untried or discarded by popular vote. Not we, the staff, but you, the students of A. H. S., have written this, your yearbook; we have only compiled it for you. You have forged another year in the golden chain that makes us a School of Distinction. It is a record of your work, your fun, your aims, your projects, and your achievements, and it is with pride we offer to you this, Your

GOLDEN HAZE.

ROYAL RHYTHERS

Miss Mavis

With the close of another school year, we were even more sure it would be impossible to have a full, normal school year without the Akron High School Band, led and spurred onward by Miss Mavis, director. Their brisk marching on Memorial Day, their delightfully clever formations at basketball games, led by the drum major, Duane Smith, and the new pep band with its snappy marches have all helped to gain the respect of the entire community, students, and faculty.

During the school year the band participated in many activities, the home basketball games, concerts, and contests. The band has won many honors at contest in which it competed with schools from all over the state. They finished their year by playing at graduation. For this we the Seniors of 1960 salute you, the members of the band.

JR. HIGH CHORUS

GIRLS' CHORUS AND BOYS' CHORUS

Patsy Hartzler, Suzanne Swick, Sandra McCloughan, Janice Miller, Diane Drudge, and Karen Hammond were the six girls who made up the Senior sextet. These girls have won many honors in the four years they have been together. They have won most of them at contest where they competed with people from all over the state. We salute you girls for the wonderful work you have done.

The Trio just came into the light this year. They had been singing in private but not in public. We wish them all the luck in the years to come in which they are together. The three girls are Norma Hiers, Janet Teel and Alyce Murphy.

We welcomed a new group to the school. They were the Boys' Quartet, made up of Roger Swick, Jim Barr, Jim Harsh and Randy Sriver.

FLYERS

The flyers experienced a below par season but showed us at times that they could play excellent basketball. This team had some difficult handicaps to overcome, but at the end of the schedule they had made progress. The team may not have won all the games we wanted them to win, but we should judge a team's success on their teamwork, spirit, appearance, and sportsmanship; not on their games won and lost.

you get!

Alexander Pope said, "Charms strike the sight, but merit wins . . ." You'll learn through experience that the harder you work to make your own lucky breaks, the more luck will smile your way. Congratulations.
